

Applied Management Degree Course now open to Diploma graduates

Want to increase your chances of a promotion?
Interested in gaining practical management skills?
Do you have a Diploma or Advanced Diploma?

Our partnership degree program is now accepting students who have completed a diploma. The degree is a three year program but you can get credit for the first year if you have completed a diploma in a related discipline. Advanced Diploma students can receive up to two years credit.

A practical course

This course is great for TAFE students who want a practical course that can help them build their career. It blends the strategic approach that is essential with the practical planning, marketing, finance and people skills required to manage the complexities of a modern business.

Program Structure Year Two

The second year of the Bachelor of Applied Management takes you to the next step of career success. Tapping into your existing competencies through a series of interactive workshops, activities and assignments.

You can develop the skills, capabilities and knowledge to successfully manage people and businesses in an increasingly changing workplace.

Final Year = Degree

This is the final year of the program, so you will graduate with a complete, fully accredited, University Bachelor Degree. With a degree designed to respond to 21st Century employer needs for highly skilled and educated employees, you will possess solid technical and practical knowledge and skills to enable you further your management career.
