Addressing the selection criteria

In the nomination, information must be presented in a way that clearly addresses the award criteria. The award judging panel will be looking for evidence of how training has contributed to the nominees’ career and study plans, to the development of their skills and their achievements to date, as well as any way in which training may have helped them to achieve other pursuits.

Keep your writing clear and simple; dot points are acceptable. Give practical examples and avoid vague generalisations: if you make a general statement such as, “I have an understanding of industry trends”, you need to give some evidence.

It is a good idea to use the assessment criteria for your category as headings in your submission. It is your choice whether you also have sub-headings for the items listed under each criterion on the entry form, they are there to give you an idea of what you could include.

It is important to address all four criteria. A total of 20 points will be allocated across these four criteria by the judging panel. The maximum amount of points available for each criteria are:

- Nominator Comments/Academic Achievement (Section 3) 7 points
- Community/ Industry Involvement (Section 4) 5 points
- Career Aspirations (Section 4) 3 points
- Personal Achievements (Section 4) 5 points

Note: The nomination form together with relevant supporting documentation should be no longer than 10 pages.

Attachments

It is not essential to send any attachments with a nomination submission. However, nominees may want to attach copies of training and education certificates, copies of certificates and awards, images of works or copies of portfolio pieces and/or letters of reference that support your application.

Original documents should not be sent with any submission as we are unable to return these.

We ask that successful nominees bring any relevant portfolio work, design samples or relevant documents to the award judging panel interview.

Selection process

All nominations for Institute, College and Industry Achievement Awards are assessed by the faculty/college directors.

The winners will be contacted via phone and email by Sydney TAFE Promotions and Communications after Thursday 27 March. Selected candidates are interviewed and then assessed by the award judging panel to select the Sydney TAFE Medal winner. The panel will comprise of two nominated industry/community representatives, a nominated Institute Advisory Council member and the Director of Promotions and Communications.

All nominees should be prepared to attend an interview on one of these two days if selected as a winner. All unsuccessful nominees will be notified via mail and may be asked to attend an interview at a later date to be profiled as a Sydney TAFE graduate.
